Marshall Pays Surprise Visit to Korean War Front

Acheson Undergoes Seventh Day of Questioning in Senate Probe of Far Eastern Policy

Washington, June 8—(AP)—A charge that U. S. Ambassador John Muccio once said the United Nations are not fighting Communism in Korea was received today at the senate MacArthur inquiry. Secretary of State Acheson testified Muccio had said the report was "entirely incorrect."

Acheson was back in the witness chair for the seventh day at the hearings by the senate armed services and foreign relations committees on the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Soon after the questioning began, Senator Bridges (R-NH) told Acheson he had received a letter from Rep. Hugh D. Scott Jr. (R-Pa.)

repeating charges that Ambassador Muccio tried to "convince me we were not fighting Communism." Scott visited Korea last year.

In an exchange that followed, Acheson said Muccio is "one of our very finest men in the department" but that if it were proved he was "expressing thoughts which were unfair to the policy of the government or disloyal or anything else" he should be fired.

Scott's charges first came out last year.

Bridges said he had talked to Scott, former Republican national committee chairman, and had received a letter from him last Wednesday saying:

"Of course, Muccio's statement to me was made in the presence of Representative Henry J. Latham of New York and of four or five members of the embassy staff. I have no doubt that Muccio discussed the controversy with Acheson when Muccio was in this country some time ago."

Latham is a Republican.

Acheson said he had checked the charges with Muccio "and he has replied in a very vigorous way, saying that that is entirely incorrect and stating exactly what the conversation was he had with the gentleman named."

Acheson said he would produce a telegram from Muccio for the record.

Bridges said it was a question of Muccio's contention against that of Scott "and the congressmen and the other witnesses who were present."

Earlier while Acheson sat waiting in the witness chair to testify the senators fell into a discussion of how to proceed with their ever-lengthening hearings, now in the 30th day.

Senator Brewster (R-Me) suggested that the members take tomorrow off to catch up with their other duties, but Russell said he felt they should go ahead with another Saturday session and continue "to push these hearings as vigorously as possible."

STRIKE AT ERIE
Erie, June 7—(AP)—The Erie Forge and Steel Company "shut down today as more than 1500 employees refused to cross picket lines set up by 30 fellow members of the CIO United Steelworkers."

WHITE HILL DEATH IN 1944 IS PROBED
Harrisburg, June 8—(AP)—An investigation into the death of a Beaver county youth in 1944 at the White Hill industrial school showed the boy died from "natural causes," state police reported.

Mrs. Mary Zachodni, mother of 16-year-old John J. Zachodni, Beaver, charged in a letter to Gov. John S. Fine the youth died as a result of a beating. The governor ordered a police investigation.

Reapportionment Plan Proposed Would Add Three Counties to the 19th District
Harrisburg, June 8—(AP)—Reapportionment experts came up today with a congressional redistricting plan that drastically realigns central Pennsylvania counties.

It's a revision of a plan announced a month ago, although the same two Republican and one Democratic seats will be dealt out of the picture.

The GOP seats are now held by Reps. Wilson D. Gillette, Towanda (14th district) and Alvin R. Bush, Muncy (15th district). The Democratic seat of the late Rep. Frank Buchanan, McKeesport (33rd district), also would go into the discard.

The legislature must reduce Pennsylvania's congressional delegation from 33 to 30 because of population changes uncovered by 1950 census figures.

The new plan, disclosed by aides of the senate and house reapportionment committees, sharply reworks the 17th district now represented by Rep. Richard H. Simpson, Huntingdon.

Simpson, in losing three counties in the southern part of his district, would pick Lycoming and Columbia for the northern section of the 7th district.

Lycoming is now a part of the 5th district which would be abolished entirely. That district, represented by Bush, includes Lycoming, McKean, Potter, Tioga, Cameron and Clinton counties.

Clinton would become part of Rep. James E. VanZandt's 22nd district that now includes Clearfield and Centre counties. He is in Altoona Republican.

The 18th district, a seat now held by Rep. Leon H. Gavin, Oil City Republican, would pick up McKean, Potter and Cameron counties. It now comprises Venango, Warren, Forest, Clarion, Jefferson and Elk counties.

Tentative Plan of Administration To Drop Proposed Income Tax Opposed
Harrisburg, June 8—(AP)—A tentative plan by the administration to drop its proposed state income tax in favor of a retail mercantile tax met bitter opposition today from Pennsylvania merchants.

The Pennsylvania Retailers Association, representing some 10,000 stores in 150 state cities, declared a mercantile levy would be a "crippling blow" to keystone merchants.

It said it would fight such a tax "tooth and nail."

A responsible Republican leader, who declined identity by name, said yesterday a proposed one percent retail mercantile or gross receipts levy is being advanced privately to GOP senators to test their reaction.

It is being proposed, he said, as an alternative tax to the Gov. John S. Fine's recommended one-half of one per cent flat income tax. The $119,000,000 income levy has been stalemated in the senate for weeks after winning house passage. A group of 11 GOP senators have held up senate action on the measure.

The Republican leader said a one per cent tax on retail business sales would produce up to $150,000,000 in revenue the next two years.

"It Can Happen to You" Vogler Warns

Washington, June 8—(AP)—Robert A. Vogler today repudiated as rubbish the "confession" of sabotage and spying against Hungary he said he made after 17 months in a Communist prison.

The American business man freed April 28 when the State Department complied with Hungarian government demands, detailed for the first time his prison ordeal to the National Press Club.

Thanking the American press for "keeping the case alive," Vogler said his was a "case history" of Communist methods, and advised that "it can happen to you."

Messages Fail To Provide Clue On Missing Diplomats
London, June 8—(AP)—The Foreign Office said today messages bearing the names of two missing British diplomats—and sent from Paris by a mysterious third person—fail to give a single clue as to their present whereabouts.

William Ridsdale, head of the Foreign Office New department, said three messages to relative here appeared to have been composed by the vanished Britons, but were not in their handwriting.

In Paris, the newspaper France Soir said the missing pair—Donald Duart MacLean, head of the American department of the Foreign Office, and Guy Burgess, until recently at the British embassy in Washington—may now be in Warsaw.

The paper said French Army Intelligence officers held this theory. French police said they did not know where the men are, but expressed belief they had not left France.

There is fear, both in London and in Washington, that the two may have taken top-level defense secrets behind the iron curtain, straining British-American relations. MacLean had access to such information. Both men speak Russian, are students of Communist theory and have reputations for getting along well with Communist diplomats.

One of the three messages was received early yesterday, the other two later in the day.

36 Harness Racers Are Lost In Fire
Buffalo, N. Y. June 8—(AP)—Thirty-six harness race horses, valued at more than $100,000, were burned to death last night in a fire that destroyed five barns in the stable area at Buffalo raceway.

Three hundred volunteer firemen from 10 communities around nearby Hamburg, home of the half-mile track, battled under trying conditions.

Frightened horses, driven out of the barns by their owners, raced loose through the area. Many of the 4,000 spectators on hand for the evening's eight-race program crowded in toward the barns to watch.

URGES ACTION ON EXTENSION OF CONTROLS

Washington, June 8—(AP)—Administration forces in congress, prodded by President Truman, stepped up lagging efforts today to beat the June 30 deadline for renewal of the economic controls.

With barely three weeks left before expiration of the defense production act which covers the controls, senate and house committees planned to get down to business next week on drafting legislation to extend the law another year.

President Truman yesterday warned that before the year is out inflationary pressures may be expected to "grow rapidly" under the pressure of $30,000,000,000 a year increase in defense spending.

In a statement issued at his weekly news conference, the president said the nation must meet this "head on," together with efforts by "special interests" to kill all wage and price controls.

On Capitol Hill, the senate banking committee yesterday wound up five weeks of hearings on the administration proposal to extend the controls law. The group planned to go into a huddle on the control issue next week.

Some members indicated there was little doubt the controls would be extended but probably without new powers asked by Mr. Truman.

Rep. Spence (D-Ky.), chairman of the house banking committee, told newsmen he planned to conclude hearings on the bill Monday.

Spence set the week of June 18 for bringing a completed bill to the floor for final house action.

Some lawmakers, taking into consideration the nearness of the present defense act's expiration date, predicted that congress would resort to a 90 or 90-day interim extension of the law pending a longer-term decision on the administration proposal.

Mr. Truman asked a two-year extension. It appeared unlikely the house would approve more than a one-year extension of the law.

Ignoring of Order Is Given As Cause of Tennessee Wreck
Clarksville, Tenn., June 8—(AP)—Because an order was not followed, six trainmen died when two Louisville and Nashville passenger trains met head-on yesterday six miles southwest of here.

Thirteen passengers were injured, one critically, when the Pan American, northbound from Memphis, and southbound local No. 103 out of Bowling Green, Ky., came together in a rainstorm.

R. C. Parsons, L. and N. General manager, said at Louisville, Ky., that the Pan American's engineer and conductor had written orders to stop at Hematite, Tenn., to let the local pass. No. 103 was running two hours late.

The engineer, 54-year-old W. J. Miller, of Paris, Tenn., was killed. The conductor, C. P. Vester, also of Paris, said the orders to stop at Hematite were received by him and Miller, but added that he was too unnerfed by the wreck to offer an explanation of why they were not carried out.

The trains crashed on a stretch of single track, not equipped with block signals, two miles north of Hematite. The diesel engines were demolished, and three cars of the local and two of the Pan American wrecked beyond repair.

Warren Boy Choir To Be Accompanied By Three Adults
When the Warren Boys Choir leaves for Philadelphia June 22nd to appear on the Paul Whiteman Teen-Age television show on the afternoon of June 23rd, there will be 37 vocalists and three adults in the party. The trip will cost approximately $750 and a campaign is being waged under the auspices of the Kiwanis Club to raise this amount.

It is the belief of the committee that the people of the community will be proud to recognize the ability of these boys and their director, Byron Swanson, who has given so freely of his time in developing the perfection that won such recognition from Paul Whiteman, by contributing the needed sum. Checks should be made out to the Warren Boys Choir Trip Fund, and sent or mailed either to the Times-Mirror or Radio Station WNAE.

The itinerary of the trip provides for the boys to leave here on the morning of June 22nd on a chartered bus, which is being arranged by Warren City Lines at a reduction in cost amounting to a donation of about $100. That night will be spent in one of the leading hotels in the city, and the morning of June 23rd will be spent in sightseeing tours. The appearance on the Whiteman show is scheduled for 4:30 in the afternoon.

Fourth of July Celebration Boosters Discuss Plans at Enthusiastic Meeting

An enthusiastic and well attended meeting of the Jayces Fourth of July Celebration last night disclosed that plans for the five day event are progressing rapidly and it appears that this year's celebration will equal last summer's in spectacular attractions.

Attending last night's session with the Jayces were L. N. McConnell, borough manager and H. B. Pettit, manager of the J. C. Penny Co., who offered their advice and assistance to the committee. Two members of the Chautauque Lake Boat Club were present also to give details of the motor boat races which will be part of the celebration.

One of the decisions made last night was the moving up of the Queen contest from Friday night to Saturday evening in an effort to tighten up the schedule which will span a five day period from Saturday June 30th, to Wednesday, July 4th. The tentative lineup of events at this time are as follows:

Saturday evening, June 23rd, five girls will be chosen to make up the royal court with the selection to be made in downtown Warren and followed by a street dance. Already many fine prizes have been donated for the Queen and her court by Warren merchants including: Lane Cedar Chest from Waxman's Furniture Store; portraits from Kofod's Studio; 12 pair of Nylon hose from J. C. Penney Co., a Mary Baron slip and 3 pair of Nylons from Stein's; an evening gown from Betty Lee and an overnight case from Blomquist's Furniture Store. The Queen and her court will breakfast at the Home Spun Inn and lunch will be served at the Blue and White. Corsages will be provided by Virg-Ann.

The selection of the queen from among the five finalists will be held a week later, Saturday evening, June 30th in downtown Warren and this will be followed by a dance at the Spot, Warren youth canteen. The coronation will be staged that night. All girls between 17 and 21 are eligible and are urged to enter the contest by sending in the entry blank from the Times-Mirror.

Sunday afternoon, July 1, will feature the outdoor motor boat races on the Allegheny river between the Hickory street bridge and the railroad bridge. The Tri-State Racing Association and the Jamestown Boat Club are staging this event for which there is $150 in prizes. About 25 boats are expected for the races.

Sunday evening the Warren County Ministerial Association has arranged the community vesper service to be held in front of the Times-Mirror.

U. N. Forces Keep Hammering Away at Suddenly Stiffened Resistance Before Chonwon

Tokyo, June 8—(AP)—U. S. Defense Secretary George C. Marshall paid a surprise visit to the Korean war front today while big Allied guns fought a long range artillery duel with Chinese batteries in front of Chonwon.

Marshall told war correspondents any peace moves would have to come from Red China. He is seeking more United Nations troops to support the Allied drive.

The Korean campaign is not a stalemate, he said. It's a "military classic."

The war "is going along fine," added Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, U. S. supreme commander.

The defense secretary toured the front with Ridgway and Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of U. N. ground forces. He conferred with commanders of every American division and every other U. N. unit committed to action.

Marshall found "a great spirit of enthusiasm everywhere" among the troops.

U. N. forces hammered Friday at suddenly stiffened resistance before Chonwon, gateway to the Reds vital "iron triangle" on which their whole position in Korea depends.

The Eighth Army reported gains of up to a mile, and slightly over that in drives up the central front. Tanks rammed up one road for three miles without trouble. These blows were aimed at Kumhwa, eastern anchor of the triangle.

But in the west, three Chinese battalions blocked all Allied attempts to hack their way closer to Chonwon up to mid-afternoon. The Eighth Army reported. Later front dispatches reported Allies hacked their way for two miles through mud, slime and deep dug in Reds. Censorship prevented dispatches from saying whether this carried troops to the gates of the city.

In the east it was a hacking advance over ridges; or no gain at all.

The day-long artillery duel roared on the western front within earshot of where Marshall conferred with top U. N. field commanders. Allied shells screamed down from the heights into Chonwon, ripped escape roads and burst in hills where the Reds were entrenched.

Chinese Communists opened flood gates and employed a powerful new type anti-tank gun in efforts to halt the relentless approach of United Nations ground forces.

Chonwon and Kumhwa are entries to the Reds' buildup and supply area, and center of a vital road network.

The area, known as the "iron triangle," was blanketed with fragmentation bombs last night by 23 U. N. bombers. They used radar technique. Far East Air Forces said 9,000,000 bomb fragments (Turn to Page Eleven)

PUPPIES SEEK HOMES

Good homes are sought for four bull puppies six weeks old. Persons interested are advised to apply to Charles E. Cross, who operates the Bonnie Brae hunting and fishing camps, Route 62, near Tidoute.

ERROR IN AD

Attention is called to the fact that the price of head lettuce was misquoted in the advertisement for the Scalise Bros. store on page 16 of Thursday's issue. The price should have been listed as "two heads for 29 cents," instead of two for 19 cents.

BARBERSHOPPEERS

The Warren Barbershop Singing Society will hold its regular practice session Monday night at 8 o'clock at Trinity Memorial parish house. Plans also will be made for the organization's annual stag picnic, tentatively slated for June 25.

ELKS BRIDGE WINNERS

Winners in the weekly bridge tournament at the Elks Club Thursday evening were as follows: First, R. K. McLean-Henry Hunzinger, second, A. Karlson-M. A. Korreick; third, Leonard Abbott-E. E. Koebley. Members are reminded that there will be no tournament next week, due to the annual Flag Day exercises to be held that evening by officers of the lodge.

FIREMEN'S EXERCISES

Graduation exercises for 24 members of the Kane Fire Department were held at the Mountain Hose company rooms last evening when certificates for completion of 18 weeks fire school were awarded. Douglas Kropf, National Forge and Ordnance Company safety expert and former Warren fire chief, was the guest speaker. The course taught by LeRoy Horton, Kane, for the Public Service Institute covered all phases of the fire fighting fundamentals.

HEADPIN TOURNEY

Dick Carlson is leading the headpin tourney at the Arcade alleys with a three-game 312 total. Dr. James Giunta is second high with 308. Carlson also holds the top single game, 111. In the woman's division, Vera Wood and Millie Burman are tied for first with 250, while Cynthia VerMil-yea is second with 243. Mrs. Wood owns high single game of 94. # Sixty Students to Be Presented in Dancing Recital

Next Thursday evening the Rapp Dance Studio will present over sixty students in ballet, tap and interpretative dancing at its fifth annual recital in the Woman's Club auditorium. The pupils range in age from 3 to 17 years. Every dancer will appear in at least one number and a few will be seen in three different routines.

"Circus Fantasy", a take-off on the antics of circus performers in the sawdust ring, will be given by four lovely pre-school girls, Diane Jones, Bonnie Trzcinski, Sheila Dunn of Sheffield, and Linda Ahlgren of Warren. Soft-shoe tapping reaches its peak in "Going to the County Fair", which also includes pantomime, interpretative dancing and singing by Diane Anderson, Johnny Check, Dale and Alan Potter.

The always-popular dancer, Phoebe Jewell, will be featured in "The Skaters", a combination of ballet and acrobatic dancing. She will be assisted by Dick Rapp, director. Marlene Johnson's solo number is a variation of a comic part from "Graduation Ball".

Dressmakers and mothers have been busy for weeks creating elaborate costumes for each of the 18 special numbers to be shown Thursday night. Materials have been received from outstanding New York theatrical fabric firms.

The high spot of the evening will be the second act from the four-act ballet, "Swan Lake or Le Lac de Cygne". The music was Tchaikovsky's first ballet composition; choreography or dance interpretation is the work of Marius Petipa. It was first produced in St. Petersburg in 1876. The talented dancer, Nancy King of Tidouate, the swan-queen. The swan maidens include: Phoebe Jewell, Mary Morse, Judy Weid and Anne Connelly of Ludlow; and Julie Lawson of Jamestown. Dick Rapp dances the role of Prince Siegfried, who with his court friends, portrayed by Robert Israel, Edward Erickson and Warner Ahlgren, have come to the clearing of an enchanted lake to find swans by moonlight. The evil sorcerer is acted in pantomime by Sonya Barris. Traditional ballet costumes have been chosen for "Swan Lake".

TEN POUND VACATION WARDROBE

You can travel light—on only 10 pounds of clothes—and be smartly dressed throughout this summer's vacation, an article in the July issue of Pageant magazine demonstrates.

Packed in a light plaid canvas bag, easy to handle on all transportation, you can carry along a complete, varied and easy to maintain two-week wardrobe! Principal components of the master mix pictured in the magazine are multi-purpose separates, such as a sleeveless sweater worn, and effectively, with everything from shorts to evening skirt!

You'll want to make your selections too of the lightest possible materials and to make sure they are crush-proof and require little upkeep. Don't think you have to tear up the budget to travel smartly—but lightly. A few reasonably-priced pieces can give the impression of an expensive wardrobe. You'll have some items already which will fit into your mix-well and double-up outfit.

You'll take lingerie which washes and dries in a jiffy, eliminating the need for extras. You won't forget accessories but will take those which will be usable with a number of outfits. You'll co-ordinate your colors carefully.

Items of vacation wear selected against which you can check your own ideas for a light, easily maintained, fashion-right wardrobe are as follows: for travel: denim duster, skirt and scoop-neck blouse, veiling hat, Playtex girdle, nylon bra and slip (for washing ease), gloves, pearl jewelry, basic pumps; in the bag: nylon net evening gown, elasticized nylon faille swim separates and belt, thong sandals with interchangeable color laces, denim shorts, striped cotton tee shirt, rayon jersey dirndl skirt and blouse, long sleeved wool cardigan, black sleeveless sweater, silk organdy print skirt and halter blouse, nylon nightgown and petticoat, black evening shoes; accessories include extra gloves (long), two scarfs, flowers, earrings, pin and pearl choker. And that's it! A ten pound wardrobe in one modest size bag!

DON'T FORGET THE CELEBRATION

The Fourth of July Celebration committee, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, held a largely-attended and enthusiastic meeting at the American Legion Home last evening and the reports submitted by heads of the various groups indicated that plans for the event are swinging into high gear, although the boys can use many more volunteer workers.

A special appeal was made for about 140 men to help handle the gigantic parade that will be held on the morning of the Fourth. These are needed to act as division chiefs, aides and guides to the marching and musical organizations.

The appeal for parade leaders is only one of the many that will be made in the next two or three weeks. Entries are still open for the queen contest, the motor boat races and other events. Another important factor in a successful parade involves floats, and those in charge of this detail are disappointed in the number entered up to the present time. It is hoped that those industries, retailers and other business places planning to enter floats will do so without delay.

There are many other phases of the celebration where public cooperation is needed if it is to be a success, and the most important of these involves finances. The campaign to raise approximately $5,000 for the budget is under way. Be prepared for the solicitor. It will save time for him and for yourself and display public-spirited interest in a worthwhile project if you will respond without delay or complaint.

FAST ACTION NEEDED

The Warren Boy Choir will appear on the Paul Whiteman Teentime Television program on the afternoon of Saturday, June 23, bringing to this community an honor seldom experienced by any town the size of Warren.

Those who accepted the invitation did so firm in the belief that the people of Warren will support their decision by contributing funds necessary to finance the trip, and to that end a campaign is well under way to raise the $750 that will be required to send the 35 or more boys on this epochal tour.

Large and small donations are solicited, either in cash or by check. Make checks payable to "Boy Choir Fund," and mail or send to either the Times-Mirror or Radio Station WNAE. Acknowledgements will be made, and the public will be kept fully informed as to the progress of the drive.

Show's Over If the Little Guy Slips

Here And There

Considerable space in the May issue of "The Alumni News Review," published at the University of Pittsburgh, is given to a detailed account of plans for the full-course barbecued beef dinner to be prepared and served by the Lewis Catering Service of this city, to be a feature of the program next Tuesday afternoon. According to Deb Lewis a crowd of at least 3,000 is expected. Regarding the project the article says in part:

This year a new type of feast is planned and will take the theme of the "Pow Wow" which is most appropriate since Pitt, then Pittsburgh Academy, was established in 1787 in the area of the Golden Triangle at which time Indians were very much in evidence where that famous clock at Fifth and Smithfield now hangs.

Pow Wows of all tribes were held when all Indians caught up on the gossip and learned of new and larger teepees that were to be built.

Just a warning—when you approach the reservation don't shoot if you see what was a big prime beef, for it will already be prepared to seat.

The night force or the night marauders will have taken care of that—the whole beef will be placed over the charcoal fire at 8 p. m. Monday, June 11, right on the reservation.

If you want to get in on the whole ceremony, plan to attend. If you want to stay overnight bring your own teepee—we'll give you pitching space, but no running water. If there is not room on our reservation we'll refer you to Hotel Schenley where we are sure you will be welcome to pitch your tent in the lobby.

It is expected that this will be Pitt's largest gathering and we have planned for a real celebration. We have arranged to import The Lewis Catering Service from Warren, Pa., outstanding caterers with a national reputation, and have given them the contract to furnish and prepare the feast and they have been given plenty of warning about Pitt appetites.

You will be guaranteed a good cut of prime beef barbecued over charcoal together with all the fixings that will put you in shape to fight Indians for many days.

We are sure that again, as in the past, the medicine man will have no business on account of the food unless it will be due to over eating.

This 'N That: The spinning of the yo yo has become so popular with kiddies in and around Warren the past couple weeks we feel impelled to suggest a contest, that might be staged in connection with the variety show planned as part of the Fourth of July celebration.

President Truman has sent the name of Richard C. Gifford to the senate for the job of postmaster of Jamestown, N. Y., an employee of that postoffice for about thirty years and currently holding the job of assistant postmaster. . . . A large number of his many friends and former associates will be interested in the announcement made elsewhere that the Rev. E. Pinkney Wroth, Jr., Washington, D. C., will deliver the sermon at the eleven o'clock service at Trinity Memorial Episcopal church Sunday. . . . Pennsylvania railroad crews have just completed clearing up the wreck at Centerville, near Titusville, estimated to have caused damage and loss amounting to about $150,000. . . . The first "assault wave" of the 17-year-old locusts invaded Venango county this week. . . . Plans for a "Soap Box Derby," similar to the Kids Koaster Classic that will highlight the Fourth of July celebration in Warren, are being made by the Oil City Optimist Club for some time in August. . . . A large crowd is expected for the annual Old Home Day in Plummer Saturday, June 16. . . . And that's a reminder that Sunday, June 17th, will be Warren Day at Celoron Park and Henry Gettman, picnic manager, who was a visitor in the office Thursday tells us, that he is looking for the usual large crowd of visitors from this area on that occasion. . . . Ray Bimber has taken over the management of the parking lot in Liberty street near Third avenue. . . . Veterans wishing to enroll in On-The-Farm training under the G. I. Bill of Rights must do so before July 25, and attention is called to the fact that they must be enrolled on that date, so all necessary steps must be taken before then. . . . Robert King, aged 84 years, was among members of the Erie Kiwanis club who made the trip to Warren in the chartered bus Wednesday evening to attend the inter-club festivities. . . . And Arnold Whren, formerly located here with the Sylvania Products Co., was also in the Erie delegation. . . . With the aid of their mother, Mrs. Augustus Swick, 13 Watmore street, Jimmy age 6, and Dick 8, have rehearsals finished and plans completed for the first juvenile circus of the season, to be staged in their backyard Saturday afternoon, but don't rush down to see it because we are informed the ticket sale is a sell out and no more patrons can be accommodated. . . . Some mowing has taken place along the runways at the Municipal Airport, and according to reports pilots are well pleased with the improvement.

Senator Russell's Private Life Helps to Explain His Career

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The junior gentleman from Georgia, Chairman Richard Brevard Russell of the Senate Armed Services Committee, is a bachelor. That explains a lot about his career.

Though he is a most eligible catch for any gal or for any hostess, Senator Russell shuns the Washington social racket like the plague. When he first came to Washington, he considered many of the invitations he got something like command performances. He felt he had to go.

But one night at a party he got into an interesting discussion with a British army colonel. Everybody seemed to be talking around, so Senator Russell stayed too. Till dawn near one o'clock. As he was about to leave, he heard one old dowager say, "Well Now that the ranking guest is leaving, I guess it's safe for the rest of us to go home."

That was the end of the Russell social career. Senator Russell now lives in Washington with one of his married sisters and her husband, Col. J. K. Stacy, an airline official. But until he moved in with the Stacys, Senator Russell kept a bachelor apartment in the Mayflower hotel for many years.

HE did some of his own cooking, too. Scrambled eggs and country ham—with grits—is his favorite dish. But sometimes when Louisiana's Sen. Allen J. Ellender comes up to see him, they cook up quite elaborate meals. Senator Ellender fancies himself as something of a southern chef.

Dick Russell was the oldest of 12 children. He has seven brothers and four sisters, all living and all married. Their mother, now 83, still lives at the family home and farm just outside of Winder, Ga., a little town about 40 miles northeast of Atlanta. The senator makes his home with his mother when he's not in Washington.

A grand old lady of the old South, she has a mother's natural leanings for her first-born. And it's generally understood among his friends that Senator Russell certainly won't marry while his mother is still alive, and maybe not even after that.

The senator's father, now dead, was a former Chief Justice of the Georgia Supreme Court. The Russell family, early Scotch-Irish settlers in Georgia, had a wool mill and an iron mill near Marietta before the war. They were destroyed by Sherman's march. None of the Russell men was of age for service in the Confederate army. But Mrs. Russell had a brother killed in the war.

OF the senator's seven brothers, one is a Federal court judge, one a farmer, one an army lieutenant colonel, one a preacher, one a businessman, one a school teacher and one a physician. When they all get together with their children at a family reunion, it makes a lot of people to feed and photograph.

Dick Russell went to school near Winder and got his law degree from State University in 1918. He served 123 days in a naval training unit on the campus at Athens in World War I.

He was county attorney at 20 and elected to the state legislature when he was 21. He was speaker of the House for two terms and then ran for governor. When elected, at 32, he was Georgia's youngest governor. He served only three years of a four-year term because, as governor, he backed a bill to end lame-duck terms of office. Then he ran for the Senate, and was elected, and thrice re-elected. His present term expires in 1954 and he now intends to run again.

When he first came to Washington, Senator Russell insisted that he be given places on Appropriations and Naval Affairs committees. He said he wanted those or nothing. That was pretty brash talk for a freshman senator. But it happened to come at the time when Huey Long had resigned his committee appointments in protest. Rather than face another revolt, the leadership gave in and Senator Russell got what he wanted. He's been getting it fairly regularly ever since.

Police were called to the river bank at the foot of Beech street this morning to compel four boys to give up a projected voyage on the Allegheny in a little boat which they had constructed out of a piece of old galvanized iron. At the present stage of the river, the boys would all probably have landed at the bottom of the stream.

A hit with radio listeners is Carol Sten, but even more of a hit she is with G. I.'s in Korea and in other parts of the world particularly since the service men saw the picture of this actress of Mutual's Sunday "The Shadow" series in "Stars and Stripes." Requests for more pictures from the boys? They're decidedly voluminous, to put it mildly.

If the baseball fans can drag themselves away from the picture of the curvaceous Miss Sten—here is the schedule of games to be broadcast this coming week.

"Some day I'm going to own a Roadmaster"

ONE thing that interests us mightily is the fact that so many people are stepping up, when they buy automobiles.

We've been looking at surveys, and it seems that just about everyone wants a better car than the one he's now driving.

So we know how you feel, and we'd like to help you make your dreams come true.

We'd like you to discover how fine a fine car can be.

We'd like you to stretch out in the room of a ROADMASTER—feel the luxury of its double-depth cushions—stroke the fine texture of its fabrics.

We'd like you to know the proud levelness of its ride—and its gentle obedience to your hand on the wheel.

We'd like to show you the many extras this custom-built Buick provides—at no extra charge when we come to make out a bill of sale.

But above all, we'd like you to experience two thrills found exclusively in ROADMASTERS.

One is the smooth might of its Fireball Engine. The other is the supreme simplicity of Dynaflo Drive, which is, incidentally, one of the many features included in the price.

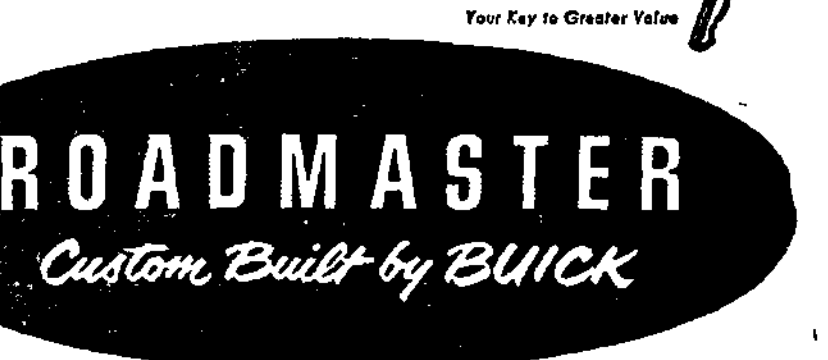

We try to hold down our enthusiasm in talking about this masterful beauty.

We might claim—you'll find more room—more comfort—more luxury—a smoother ride—more conveniences—more thrill in a ROADMASTER than in any other car in the fine-car field.

But why spoil the thrill of discovery? Find out for yourself how completely a ROADMASTER fulfills the dreams of the car hope sometime to own.

And let us whisper something to you: The cost making this step to ROADMASTER ownership less than most people believe.

Equipment, accessories, drive and models are subject to change without notice.

All day time games are broadcast on WNAE and the night games are heard over WRN. Each game is preceded by Warm-Up Time With Tucker fifteen minutes before game time.

During the first of the week, there will be several programs devoted to the Warren Boy Choir as a part of the campaign to raise funds for the choir for their trip to Philadelphia a week from Saturday to appear on Paul Whitman's TV Teen-time show. "Pops" Whitman is one of the greatest showmen of the era and it's a real honor for the Boy Choir to have the opportunity of appearing on his show. There will be 37 boys and three adults making the trip and it will be a rather expensive deal for the boys. . . so they are going to need a bit of help from the home town folks. Several of the boys will be on various shows on WNAE to let listeners know more about the choir and hear some of the selections that they do. The choir made a tape recording at WNAE a couple of weeks ago for the audition.

The Roving Mike show for tomorrow will be of considerable interest to a number of people. Dr. J. F. Crane and his son Dick left Wednesday on a trip that will cover a large part of western Europe. Before leaving, they were interviewed on the Roving Mike show to learn of their plans. As a part of the luggage they are carrying with them, they have taken the Minutap recorder that has been used on the Roving Mike show for several weeks. While in Europe, Dr. Crane hopes to be able to make several tape recordings with people he meets there, especially doctors, and has plans for a couple of interviews with people who have been in Warren. A year ago last Christmas, the Cranes were hosts to an exchange student from Germany and the Doctor and Dick expect to return the visit in Bamberg, Bavaria. If the traveling two get to Paris, perhaps will the opportunity of hearing a recording with Ann McGarry, a young lady from Warren who works for the famous Parisienne designer Pierre Balmain. So, one of these days, the Roving Mike may rove considerably farther than it has ever gone before. Doctor Crane will send his tapes back along the route so we'll hear from him before he gets home.

MENU SUGGESTIONS

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

A YOUNG husband's heart needs to beat fast with pride when his bride gives her first dinner party. But keep it within your talents. Use only dishes you have tried before, and concentrate on a few good things to eat rather than a lot of fussy ones.

Consider the part your refrigerator can play in a confusion-free dinner party. Select some dishes you can prepare in advance and refrigerate. Here's another confusion shooter: use your oven, then there will not be the last-minute cooking of meat. For dessert, decide on something slightly novel and easy to prepare ahead of time.

Here's a menu for when your friends come to dinner: jellied tomato bouillon, roast stuffed chicken, peas with lettuce and tiny white onions, saffron rice, avocado and onion rings on romaine, lime dressing, mince meat butterfies, coffee.

Mince Meat Butterfies
(Makes 6 servings)

One 9-ounce package dry mince meat, 1 cup water, 8 vanilla-flavored bakery cup cakes, ½ cup heavy cream, 2 tablespoons sugar.

Break mince meat into small pieces and put in small saucepan. Add water. Place over low heat and stir until lumps are broken. Increase heat and bring to a boil; boil until thickened, about 5 minutes. Cool. Whip cream until it peaks; fold in sugar. Cut thin slices from top of each cup cake. Put about 2 tablespoons mince meat on top of each cup cake.

★ RUTH MILLETT ★ Wife Who Works Must Take Long-Range View of Situation

ALMOST one half of all wives hold down jobs during the first year of marriage.

That's all to the good if the working wife takes a long-range view of the situation. If, for instance, she puts her earnings in the family bank account. That is the simplest way in the world of establishing an "our money" attitude. Then when she stops working it is still "our money," and she doesn't have to fight against a husband's "my money" attitude.

She doesn't decide that because she has a job there's no time for social life, for entertaining friends at home, and other diversions. She may have to plan the simplest kind of entertaining, but a certain amount of it she should do, job or no job.

She remembers that her husband's job is more important than her own. After all, she probably doesn't plan to work all of her life. But her husband will have to—so his work must come first in all of their plans.

WORK OUT A BUDGET

SHE encourages her husband to help her work out some kind of budget or spending plan so that they can begin to live on his salary as quickly as possible. If she doesn't it may be years before she can quit working.

She takes as much interest in her home as she would if she were a stay-at-home wife. Of course, she can't devote anywhere near as much time to homemaking. But she can keep the importance of her home always in mind. It isn't good for a marriage for a wife to think how and where she and her husband live isn't terribly important simply because both are gone all day.

She can, without antagonizing her husband, get him to help with the running of the house. That's to keep her from feeling that she is carrying more than her part of the load—and that's important. For no woman can be a really good wife if she feels resentful toward her husband.

Chapter 4

IT WAS just after ten a.m. when Jigger shut off the motor of the Imperial just around the corner from Charlton Street. He walked the sun-stained sidewalks rapidly and then, as number 98 came closer, watchfully.

The letterboxes, eight in all, four to a side, were government standard, each set opening with a master key in the letter carrier's possession. Jigger read the names. There were seven, with one slot blank—evidently the Anne Brown box.

Jigger peered through the holes studiously, angling his bulk so that the gray daylight in the hall touched the letterboxes. He saw something—a white surface.

He struck a match, manipulated with care, held its flame briefly. A folded paper, like a note, lay at the bottom of the box just below eye level.

There were sudden sounds vibrating in the building. Jigger started to leave; an inadvertent meeting with the police would be a red-faced moment. But the scrap of paper, or note, was fixed in his imagination.

As he hesitated, the portly mailman entered the hall, nodded a preoccupied greeting, then set his master key in the box panel on the east wall.

Jigger plunged through his pockets, in a sham search. Damned if I can ever find that key.

The mailman obliged with a commiserating look, and commenced to drop letters into individual boxes. Jigger reached into the end box and closed his fingers on the scrap of paper. The carrier looked questioning.

"Note left by my sister last night," Jigger smiled apologetically. "Misplaced the key and couldn't get into the box."

The carrier banged the master lid shut, then pointed to letters engraved above. "Write these people for a new key. Tell them your number."

Jigger nodded gratefully, his curiosity spilling over as he watched the carrier complete his chore at the west wall. He opened the note covertly as the carrier crossed the street to the odd numbers.

It was a typewritten note that read: S.W. BACK LATER—M.

New sounds in the building drew closer. They were footsteps, coming too rapidly upon him for organized retreat. Jigger pocketed the note hastily.

"Hello, Jigger."

The delivery was affable, too affable. "I'm Prescott—Captain Prescott, of Homicide."

Red grinned slyly, then took a folded newspaper from his coat pocket. He opened it and handed it to Jigger.

It was a page three report. Jigger winced reading it. The headline said, "Taxi Driver Held for Murder Questioning." The vindictive word "Released" appeared in the bottom-most small-print paragraph, in the anti-climactic style of American journalism.

Red said, "Now turn the page."

Jigger complied, and Red's finger, pointed, "Is this your derelict?"

Jigger stared, nodding slowly as he studied the picture. The picture was a blur of crowded effects, probably the work of a amateur photographer luckily on-scene. It was a drab street scene—a policeman, an interne, a queue of shocked onlookers, and a man posed lifelessly on an ambulance stretcher. The man was the derelict who had solicited him in the rain.

The caption on the picture read, "Unidentified Men Victim of Mystery Assault." A brief summary below the picture was all there was to the story. This read, "A shabbily dressed man was found unconscious in an alleyway near West Houston and Varick Streets early this morning. Police are at a loss for motive for the assault."

Jigger's eyes shadowed thoughtfully. Murder, and attempted murder. Someone had bludgeoned the derelict of the trunk.

"Now what?"

"I'm going to nose around Bellevue, find out how bad that derelict is, how badly battered. You hike over to the Morgue; keep watch there until I join you."

"Why the Morgue?"

"Because a corpse is the center of gravity. Especially an unidentified one. See who she draws, and jot down what you see."

"I can guess," Red sniffed.

Jigger handed the note to Red. "Fishes" the out of the Anne Brown mailbox."

Red said thoughtfully, "Funny the police overlooked the note."

"Maybe they didn't." This was the latest of a dozen tentative theories, each cancelling its predecessor.

Red looked puzzled. "I don't understand."

"The note may have been dropped in the mailbox after the police search."

"You mean the signer 'M' didn't know she was dead?"

Jigger hoisted a shoulder. "I mean I don't know what I mean."

the biggest value in town

There were signs the Reds were shifting their weight eastward from the triangle. U. N. officers said the shift indicated the Reds were moving toward Wonsan, east coast port at the head of P'yong-gang Valley. Wonsan has been shelled daily by Allied warships for nearly four months. It is about 85 air miles north of the 38th parallel.

Fiercest fighting was east of the triangle in the Yanggu-Inje area. There was no cover for Chinese still in Chorwon. U. N. artillery was looking down their throats from a 2,700 foot high mountain (Kodak). The town itself was already flattened.

WILL RACE IN WARREN—Pictured above is Cliff Westrom of Jamestown, New York in his "Boudin Baby" which will be one of 25 or 30 motor boats entered in the race on the Allegheny River, Sunday, July 1st as part of the Jaycee Fourth of July celebration. Entries have already been received from racers in Erie, Jamestown, Dunkirk, Tonawanda, and Conneaut, Ohio, who will be vying for the $150 in prize money. The committee pointed out last night that entries are welcome from anywhere and if there are any motor boat racers in Warren and vicinity, they may enter the contest by contacting the Times-Mirror.

Fourth of July Celebration Boosters

Beatty School at 7:30. Byron Swanson will conduct a community chorus and the Reverend C. W. Baldwin will give the principal address.

Monday evening, July 2, Beatty school lawn will again be the scene of the celebration activity as a ten act variety show will be staged. Work is now starting to obtain out of town professional acts to headline this show.

Tuesday evening, July 3, is an open date. However, the committee hopes to use this evening for the dedication of War Memorial Field and hopes that Rear Admiral Dennison can be in town on that evening to give the main address. The VFW, the American Legion, the Jaycees and members of Warren Borough Council will meet next week to work out details of the dedication.

The big day, of course, will be the grand and glorious Fourth of July. Jack Barr and Milt Dahler, co-chairmen, said last night they hope to limit the parade this year to 20 divisions. For each division the committee needs five men, a division chief and four aides. It is suggested that local clubs and organizations volunteer their services by taking charge of a division.

Another Class A drum corps has been entered in the parade and in the competition. Through the efforts of the local chapter, Fraternal Order of Eagles, the Buffalo, N. Y. Eagles' file and drum corps has been secured for the day. The local Eagles organization will pay the expenses of the visiting outfit. Four other Class A corps are also entered.

The afternoon of the fourth thousands are expected at War Memorial Field to witness the drum corps competition for which $2000 in prize money is being offered. Early in the afternoon Warren residents will be treated to an air show by four F-86 jet planes which the department of the Army is sending to Warren for the celebration.

In the evening a gigantic fireworks display will be set off at Beatty Field followed by the grand finale. The committee last night denied that a carnival was being brought to Warren during the week of the Fourth inasmuch as the Jaycees have recently adopted a policy not to sponsor the appearance of carnivals in this community.

The one stumbling block to a successful celebration this year is the lack of interest on the part of many individuals and business concerns to give financial backing. Several thousand dollars will be needed to stage this event and the only admission charged during the five days will be to the drum corps competition. The committee heads thanked the many citizens who have offered their help so far and issued an invitation to anyone else to join with the Jaycees in staging the celebration.

ments splattered over the triangle in "one of the heaviest operations of its kind."

There were signs the Reds were shifting their weight eastward from the triangle. U. N. officers said the shift indicated the Reds were moving toward Wonsan, east coast port at the head of P'yong-gang Valley. Wonsan has been shelled daily by Allied warships for nearly four months. It is about 85 air miles north of the 38th parallel.

Fiercest fighting was east of the triangle in the Yanggu-Inje area. There was no cover for Chinese still in Chorwon. U. N. artillery was looking down their throats from a 2,700 foot high mountain (Kodak). The town itself was already flattened.

Would-Be Suicide Notifies Mortician

Reading, June 28—(P)—Robert Smythe, who works at the T. C. Auman Funeral Home, answered the telephone and said he heard the tired voice of a woman:

"I want to arrange my funeral. Make sure I'm wearing my wedding band."

"Who is this?" Smythe asked. A pause, then the voice again: "This is Mrs. Thelma Woomert. I will be dead when you get here."

She gave the address, sobbed and hung up.

Smythe called police. Five minutes later Detective William Focht and Sgt. Frank Pawloski broke a bolted bedroom door in Mrs. Woomert's home and found her dead in her bed.

OIL RESERVE

It is estimated that in the western reserves of the United States oil-soaked layers of shale clay contain more than 100,000,000,000 barrels of oil. All that remains to get at this oil is to invent a process to release it from the shale.

(Ward 9) by a 14-5 count; and Keystone Garage (Ward 5) Beating Annex Garage (Wards 6 and 8) by an 11-2 count.

Youngsville led off on Fadales in the first inning with a four-run barrage on two hits and three runs. Fadales got one of those runs in the bottom half of the first, and then racked up five runs in the second frame on four safes, three walks and one error. Youngsville notched a single in the fourth to make the score 5-0 and that's the way the game ended. Ed Hefnerman, Fadales' pitcher, made a driving catch at a high foul with a man on second and the game.

Three Top Drivers Scheduled Sunday At Starbrick Track

Sunday will be comeback day for the top stock car drivers at the Dicky-Ben Speedway when Carl Pintagro of Jamestown, Bob Allen of Erie, and Bob Thompson of Fredonia, all attempt to get back into the pay off circle.

Ironically enough, all three ran into racing difficulty last week, and though they are the top point men in the association, none of them were able to finish the feature event which was won by Art Robbins of Erie.

That there will be plenty of excitement on Sunday is assured by the fact that in addition to the regular 25 lap feature race, a special four car race between Bob Allen, Pintagro, Thompson, and Robbins will be held. This event will bring together the winners of the four feature races staged by the association.

A number of new drivers including Chet Dylewski of Erie who finished second last week, Bob Borland, Art Anderson, George Bilo, and several others will be on hand at the Dicky-Ben speedway when the first race is run.

Racing on Sunday will get underway at 2:30 p. m. with the boys testing out their cars and the track for an hour previous to the starting time.

MIDDLE ATLANTIC

By The Associated Press

Oil City Refiners came from behind in the ninth inning last night to beat Lockport 9-7 and end a 13 game losing streak.

Chuck Lavery, Oil City right fielder, homered in the third with the bases loaded. A pair of singles, a walk and an error in the ninth decided the game.

Erie beat Butler 9-2 as Don Poling scored his sixth win against no defeats. The Erie team hammered two Butler pitchers for 10 hits.

Left fielder Hank DJohnson hit a 250-foot homer with one man on in the ninth to give Niagara falls a 6-5 win over New Castle.

PONY LEAGUE

Olean gained on the leaders in the PONY League again last night by topping Hornell, 2-1, while Jamestown split a doubleheader.

The league-leading Falcons traded shutouts with Batavia. Jamestown lost the first, 4-0, and came back in the second, 10-0. John Mayreys set the Falcons down in the first game with three hits. Jim Stump hurled a two-hitter for Jamestown in the second.

The picture of the top teams in the league now finds Jamestown in front by a half-game over Hornell and 1 1/2 in front of Olean.

Hamilton and Wellsville continued their battle for sixth place. The Cardinals replaced Wellsville by winning 13-4 last night. They now are back where they started when the two-game series started.

In the other game, Corning beat Bradford, 8-6, in 11 innings.

Fritz Dorish Chucks Shut-out For the Incredible White Sox

By The Associated Press

Fritz Dorish is the latest "waiver" to burst out as a shut-out starter for the incredible Chicago White Sox.

Paul Richards has a new trick every day in the greatest sleight-of-hand job since Thurston saved his last woman in two. And the end is not in sight. You wouldn't be too surprised if he pitched Catcher Gus Niarhos against the Yankees and got away with it.

He yanked Dorish out of the hat yesterday—his first start of the hat. What he has Richards for the route every day. This was the Sox's 24th complete pitching job.

Dorish first cluttered up the box scores at Boston in 1947. In '48 and '49 when Sox pitching gave away more gobs of runs than Ted Williams and company could supply, Dorish couldn't make it. Both years he finished in the minors.

Last year the St. Louis Browns grabbed him for $10,000. As a reward for a 6.99 earned run average even the Browns let him go. He was on the Toronto roster when the White Sox drafted him.

Dorish's neat five-hitter against Washington, 5-0, was Chicago's sixth shutout and 20th win in the last 22 starts. No wonder they lead the American League by a robust 4 1/2 game margin.

The Sox confused the Senators with their amazing speed and daring behind a nine-hit attack. Stealing three bases in six attempts, they gave Julio Moreno, Joe Haynes and Sandy Consuegra the jitters. It was the Sox's sixth straight on their new string and the Senators' 18th loss in their last 18 games.

The New York Yankees barely averted another disaster in St. Louis, rallying with three in the ninth to pull out a 7-5 decision. The result left the world champs 4 1/2 games behind as they move into Comiskey Park for a four-game set.

Boston snapped its five-game losing streak at Detroit, 5-3, as Dom DiMaggio kept his 27-game hitting streak alive and won the game with one blow. Dom singled to left with the bases full and the score tied in the eighth to hang the loss on Ted Gray.

Big Luke Easter led Cleveland back on the win path after two defeats with a three-run homer for a 6-0 edge over Philadelphia. Although nicked for 12 hits, Lou Brissie made his old mates become his first victims of the year.

While the star-dusted White Sox stole the headlines, Brooklyn quietly piled up a 6 1/2 game lead in the National.

Preacher Roe, the Brooks' meal ticket, skinned him with another one-run win, 2-1, over St. Louis. It was his eighth straight of an unbeaten season and fifth by one run.

The enterprising Cincinnati Reds knocked off New York again, 5-4, to move into a second place tie with St. Louis.

Subba Church pitched the Phils to a 7-1 romp over Chicago, allowing five hits for his sixth win.

Interesting Talk Is Delivered to Local Citizens at Dinner

Human Weller, National Affairs adviser to the Northeastern Division of the United States Chamber of Commerce, offices of which are located in New York City, addressed a group of 25 local Chamber members at a National Affairs Conference held at the Carver Hotel yesterday noon. The evening was sponsored by the National Affairs Committee of the Warren Chamber of Commerce, in James H. Frantz as chairman. Mr. Frantz introduced the speaker who gave a very constructive talk entitled "The Is-Is We Face." Mr. Weller explained the significance of National Affairs in our business and economic life today. He stated that too many of our national problems are taken to State and national capitals for solution, when we should organize at local level, giving them the answers and seeing to it that something is done about our wishes. He named three functions which a local National Affairs Committee should perform as follows: 1. Inform itself regarding important national issues; 2. Promote public education through all channels available and 3. Inspire community action. Regarding Communism, Mr. Weller said that it has been figured out by experts that our children have only a 50-50 chance of escaping saying "that should be warning enough for all of us to become more interested in national affairs." Arrangements for this conference were handled by Nat Drake, Chamber Secretary.
